

S.A.S. Connections

March 18, 2009

Dear Parents and Students of St. Ambrose School,

We would like to congratulate our very own fifth grader, Paulina Pagliughi, who was a winner in the annual diocesan Respect Life poster contest. There were over thirty schools that participated in this contest. This year's theme: "A person living with a disability bears God's image and likeness, as does every human being."

Congratulations to our basketball players who had their championship games on Friday and Saturday. Many thanks to the coaches, parent volunteers, and Mrs. Sansevere. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Bannon who works very hard to make our athletic program such a success. For a school of our size, we have a very large and active sports program. So much planning, logistical orchestration, and just good old elbow grease make this program work so very well.

Please say a prayer for our fourth graders who will be visiting the villa of the Sisters of St. Joseph. This deeply spiritual retreat is an annual tradition here at St. Ambrose. Our students always profit from spending their time with the wonderful women who have served our Church so well.

Finally, the Table Etiquette Program for our 7th and 8th graders on Friday was a great success. How proud we are to teach our students some important life skills.

On behalf of the teachers and staff members of St. Ambrose, I wish everyone a blessed week.

Sincerely,

Handwritten signature of Joseph W. Norris.

Tuesday, March the 24th
7:30 PM in the Gym

Mr. Norris will raffle off two ten-hour work bond vouchers to two lucky parent winners in attendance.

(Each voucher is worth $200 and is not transferable.)

Dear Parents,

It always seems to me that General H.S.A. meetings are sparsely attended at the end of the year. Please try to come and meet with us. We will also have our Gently Used Uniforms on sale. I hope to see more people there!
Thanks,

Mr. Norris

Have you registered your child for next year?

Due to the closure of several Catholic schools in the area, we have had many new families enroll at St. Ambrose for the 2009-2010 academic year. Because of this, we literally have a waiting list for several classes. At this time, we are assuming that all current students are going to return next year.

Parents MUST register their child(ren) by Monday, April the 6th.

Since registration formally began on January the 25th, we believe that this is enough time for families to register.

Also, financial aid forms are still available in the school office. Any parents seeking help with their tuition next year MUST fill out the Diocesan PSAS forms to be considered for aid next year.
